SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Again the state should breath a bit easier. By a vote of 44 to 26 the state assembly this week put its official taboo on Assemblyman Sawallisch's bill to permit out of state motorists to enter unmolested at the registration stations which would have been abolished under the new measure. The fight against the proposal was led by Assemblyman Allen Thurman who is justifying the faith imposed in him by the voters of this district. It is interesting to note that on the same day the assembly voted the measure down, an accused violator of the Dyer Act, who had passed with out trouble from officers from South Bend, Indiana, to the California border where he was taken ito custody. These cases of apprehension are frequent and we still feel that the stations are offering one of the best and most useful services of any part of the state motor vehicle department and we feel confident that we will still enjoy the privilege of entertaining visitors to our state who will not object to the brief stop at the border for identification.

We hope for many reasons that the rumor circulated here this week concerning our Truckee River fishing problem is an idle one and we cannot conceive of such methods as are said to be proposed to force a struggling little community into line with the desires of more powerful forces. In opposing S. B. 320 to change the opening of the trout fishing season to May 30 instead of May 1 as at present, the business men and other residents of Truckee did so to protect their interests as well as the lessening supply of trout. Now comes the unverified report that unless the bill is passed there is a good opportunity that there will be no more fish planted in the river and that the stream may be closed for a long period. While we can place no stock in the story at this time we do not like the rumor one bit. Experienced fishermen tell us that the bill would not conserve, but tend to destroy the fish here and on that ground and on the ground that the region would be deprived of 30 days of revenue when it is sorely needed, we still protest.

It now appears that the plan of Vacations, Inc., to bring about a uniform three-months school vacation in California is doomed to disappointment. Strong groups in San Francisco, headed by the board of education and retail merchants, are bitterly opposed to the measure as was evident in the talks before the Senate committee in Sacarament last Thursday evening when the matter was aired at some length without gaining the required vote to get it before the house. Perhaps it would not be a bad idea if resort owners could form a unified body to combat such arguments as were offered by opponents of the plan who certainly displayed their strength.

A full week has passed since the local storekeepers assumed the big self imposed task of keeping the sidewalks and street in front of their respective stores free of debris. The results are most apparent and prove that we do want clean, tidy and well appearing streets. Remarks are most encouraging and if the good work is only kept up, we can well be proud of the appearance of our town, at least insofar as the principal street is concerned. We haven't heard what the sanitary board has done about the proposed elimination of the old unsightly and untenanted shacks in the community.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Scott E. Gordon leave Truckee for their new home in Oakland. They will be missed heer where they have taken active interest in the civic affairs. Gordon S. P. roadmaster for 11 years here has done a fine job and the steady and continuous movement of traffic over the line during the severe winter months bears evidence of his ability to keep the rails clear. We join in wishing both Mr. and Mrs. Gordon success in their new location.

Filling a long felt need in the community, the Truckee Boys' Club embracing 21 or more young boys of the town has been organized under the leadership of Rev. Keetch of the Community Church and should have the unanimous support of the entire town. The club is non-denominational and all boys of the required age are invited to join.

Joe Hirsch left the first of the month for San Rafael where he is working.

Truckee Man Is Badly Injured In Auto Mishap

Carl Smith Has Fracture Of Skull As Result Of Accident

IN CAPITAL HOSPITAL

Driver Of Car Held After Captain Struck On Street

Word from the Sacramento hospital hospital where Captain Carl Smith chief clerk at the Truckee registration station, who was seriously injured when struck by a car in the capital city Saturday night, was to the effect that he has a fractured skull and other injuries which will necessitate his remaining in the hospital for another week. Following that he will be removed to San Francisco for further treatment.

Smith was struck by a machine operated by Harry B. Morrison, 42, of 1117 Thirteenth Street, who was jailed on a drunken driving charge.

A few minutes prior to the crash, Smith was with a group of Truckee men who had gone to Sacramento to attend the intercollegiate boxing contests. He left them to join another group and as he stepped from the sidewalk on Ninth street between I and J, he was hit and dragged by the Morrison car.

First reports of the accident said Smith suffered only minor hurts, but an x-ray proved he had a fracture as well as other lesser injuries.

A relief man has arrived here to take Smith's place at the registration station pending his recovery.

While in Sacramento, Smith is under the care of Dr. R. O. Schofield, former Hobart Mills physician.

MRS. FINNEGAN DIES; WAS PIONEER OF TRUCKEE DISTRICT

Funeral services were held in Sacramento at 9:30 o'clock this morning for Mrs. Jane Finnegan, mother of Mrs. Frank Kearney, who was saddened by word of the death of the pioneer Truckee resident on Tuesday, which occurred at her home in Sacramento.

During that time the couple reared a family of sons and daughters and gained a host of friends through their interest in the affairs of the town.

Many of the older residents of Truckee will recall the deceased as a woman of fine character who was loved and respected by her family and friends.

To mourn her loss are nine children 26 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. Besides Mrs. Kearney, the following children survive: George B. of San Francisco, John of Sebastopol, C. C. of Sloat, A. J. and Leo Finnegan of Sacramento; Mrs. Julia Walker, Mrs. E. J. Kaler of Sacramento and Mrs. Ruth Wallace of Dunsmuir.

New Roadmaster Here As Gordons Leave To Take Up Bay Duties

Local Southern Pacific Man Transferred After 11 Years

Scott Gordon, for the past 10 years and 10 months Southern Pacific roadmaster in this distirct, has been transferred to the Oakland division in the same capacity and with Mrs. Gordon and their daughter, Alice, a local high school girl, will leave for the bay city this week. Gordon will assume his new duties April 1.

Gordon will have charge of the steam and electric lines of the Southern Pacific from Berkeley to Oakland and from Oakland to San Francisco over the bay bridge.

The roadmaster is being replaced here by V. E. Pearson of Oakland, who with his wife and three daughters will occupy the Gordon home in Truckee. The Gordons have purchased a new home at 691 Mandana Blvd., in Oakland.

Pearson's three daughters are in school, two in the grammar school and one in high school.

One of the heaviest and most important duties of the roadmaster in this division is snow removal and Gordon has accomplished a good job keeping the lines open even under most severe conditions.

The farewell tea given for Mrs. Scott Gordon on Tuesday afternoon between three and four o'clock at the William Englehart residence was attended by 30 friends during the hour who wished her success in her new home.

Members of the Truckee Union Parent Teachers Association sponsored the affair and assisted Mrs. Raitt Boren and Mrs. Englehart, Jr., who poured and made previous arrangements. White appointments were used at the tea table.

Mrs. Gordon has made a place for herself in community activities and will be missed by her many friends.

THE EASTER PARADE

The Easter parade is getting under way.

Bright spring apparel is making its appearnce, and soon gay Easter bonnets will be vying with the color that today covers California's orchards in canopies of pink and white and decks gardens and hillsides in a garb of spring.

And speaking of Easter bonnets, it's a new season and a good time for all shoppers to put into effect a new resolution, or to take a new lease on an old resolution if they have let it lapse. And that resolution should be to try Easter shopping at home.

Everyone wants his or her dollar to return its full value. There can be no objection to that. But there are people, prejudiced in favor of the "green pastures" in the next field, who have never thoroughly investigated the bargains available in their own community. They may be surprised to find out that in variety and values the stores of Truckee are well able to meet competition elsewhere.

Moreover, buying at home is a time-tested way of promoting a sound, energetic community. Such a community is to the advantage of every inhabitant. Every dollar spent needlessly elsewhere is, in effect, a boycott against the shopper's own community and a hurtful blow to its welfare and well-being.

In joining the Easter shopping parade by shopping at home you build prosperity at home.

THEY PAY—AND PAY

Almost audible sighs of relief came from all parts of the state when Governor Olson announced his objection to an increased gasoline tax.

Little wonder! California is the most thoroughly motorized state in the union. One person in less that three holds a license to drive a car and the threat of a lift in motor fuel costs sounds like an alarm bell for most California families.

If motorist were not paying their reasonable share, they woul have little cause for complaint, but highway users are paying their full share and have been for years. The motorist, in fact, has proved such a windfall to the state treasuries that his tax dollars re now accounting for one-third of all California's tax receipts.

It is worth noting that in 1923 the average price of gasoline per gallon was 21 cents, excluding taxes. Today improved methods of drilling and refining have reduced that average price to 14 1-2 cents, but mounting taxes have virtually wiped out any savings to the consumer.

Just why unemployment should have risen steadily during so-called "recovery" periods is a question that is perplexing the entire country. And California is in the same boat as the rest of the states, judging by statements recently made by the relief administrator. Last year there was a huge gain in California unemployment, and there was likewise a considerable discrepancy between estimated and actual employment on WPA projects in the state. Result, according to relief officials, is that there must be a deficiency appropriation of a little over $4,000,000 to carry on the state relief administration until June 30. All present funds, it is said, will be exhaused by May 6. Which is just one more substantiation of the argument that we'll never solve our problems until private, productive industry is able to absorb a majority of men out of work.

The annual report of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York shows that in the last five years commercial banks, insuranc companies, savings banks and other pools of capital which formerly directed their funds mainly into private investments, have put about 17 billion dollars into federal securities, compared to about $1,100,000,000 into corporate securities. Too much politics has stopped normal development in its tracks. Steady jobs come from industry and not politicians. —R. M. Hofer, Industrial News Review

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 30.— (UP)— Newspaper readers and others who like to read the scandal of divorce cases will be prevented from learning the lurid details if a senate bill by Robert Kenny, D., Los Angeles, becomes a law.

BREACH OF PROMISE MAY BE ELIMINATED BY BILL

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 30.— (UP)— Breach of promise suits would be outlawed in an anti gold digger bill given approval by the assembly over strenuous protests of several members. ....

..Assemblyman Gardiner Johnson, R. Berkeley, said his bill would outlaw suits for alienation of affections, seduction and breach of promise suits He contends such actions are merely refined blackmail and pointed out that abuses of the law had resulted in passage of a similar legislation in some eastern states. ....

..Before the assembly voted 45 to 28 for the bill, Assemblyman Chester Gannon, D., of Sacramento, charged that passage of the law "is saying to all the philandering Casanovas to go ahead and break up homes." He added it would permit the seduction of wives." ....

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 30.— (UP)— Retail sales of California independent stores continued to gain this year over 1938 as February showed an eight per cent increase over February a year ago, the bureau of commerce reported this week.

SWANEE RESIGNS AS CORRESPONDENT FOR SIERRA SUN

Tahoe City, Calif.
March 28, 1939

I wish to take this opportunity to thank my numerous faithful friends in and out of Tahoe, for the loyal cooperation and interest lent me throughout the years I have had the honor of serving the community through my Tahoe columns. I have consistently striven to present only news of general civic interest, shunning sensationalism and stories which might have brought personal embarrassment to anyone. I know my good friend, Anne Anderson, who will carry on in my stead while I seek success in a new field of endeavor, will continue this policy, and I sincerely hope that the loyalty and friendship which I have so deeply appreciated through the past six years will be as cordially and readily extended to her. With warmest personal greetings to all my readers and every good wish to the Sierra Sun and Truckee Republican for well deserved and continued success . . .

I remain,
Sincerely and regretfully,
"Swanee."

Editor's Note—

Although our good friend and faithful employe, Swanee, has discontinued her services as Tahoe staff representative for the Sierra Sun and Truckee Republican to be replaced by Mrs. Anne Anderson, a capable and earnest correspondent, Swanee has promised to continue to contribute to the Tahoe section of this newspaper and will represent us when the occasion demands. At the State Capitol

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

Your representative in the lower house is on record opposed to Assembly bill 814 which would allow attorneys to exercise a peremptory challenge against judges.

A senate bill on the same subject already has gone down to defeat and the writer is marshaling opposition to the assembly bill which was recommended for passage by the judiciary codes committee.

Such legislation as is proposed was enacted at the 1937 session only to be declared unconstitutional. The bill is unfair, especially to the smaller counties of the state which have only one regular judge. The challenge if exercised indiscriminately, would materially increase litigation costs.

This proposal is made to remedy a condition where, it is claimed, certain judges are biased and prejudiced. Both such conditions prevail in not more than two or three counties in the entire state and this bill would impose this unwise statute upon every county of the state.

By implication it impugns the intergity of the entire judiciary. According to its provisions, a party may wait until the case is called for trial without giving any notice that he intends to challenge the judge Then, at the last minute, he can obtain a postponment of the trial and oust the judge from jurisdiction by merely filing his affidavit that he believes he cannot have a fair trial. He need not state any facts whatsoever.

The bill will entail expensive delays and postponments in the trials of both civil and criminal cases.

In so far as it affects criminal cases it will impose great financial burdens on the counties by reason of the fact that witnesses who are subpoenaed for the date set for trial will have to be excused to another date and their witnesses fees will have to be paid.

The law now gives sufficient protection by providing for the disqualification of judges when it is shown that they are biased or prejudiced.

The bill ,I believe, is unwise and unnecessary.

A Few Sidelights

Dr. Dewey Anderson, Democratic relief adminstrator, was formerly a member of the state assembly and as such was a Republican. Democratic Lieutenant Governor Ellis Patterson who was also a former assemblyman likewise was a Republican, who turned Democrat.

Your assemblyman recently received his automobile license plates which are numbered A6. Such a low number has created considerable interest and many persons have asked us regarding just how we were able to secure such a low numbered plate. It might be of interest to the readers to know the manner in which legislators receive their license plates The license plates for assemblymen bear a green A, which stands for assemblyman, and the number of the plate represents their district hence our plate is A6, representing the Sixth Assemby District. The state senators receive license plates with a red S and likewise the number of the district. For example, State Senator Seawell's license plates aer numbered S7.

The mines and mining committee of the lower house organized last week and the writer was elected secretary of the committee. At present there are but three bills before this committee.

If anyone thinks the life of a legislator is an easy one, and that your reprsentative devotes a lot of time to play, here is just an example of a day in the life of your representative: 8:20 a. m. attended committee meeting; 10 a. m., read and answered correspondence; 12 noon, time out for punch; 2 p. m., assembly in session; 7:15 p. m., adjourned for the day; 7:45 p. m. time out for dinner; 9 p. m., fish and game committee in session; 12:30 a. m. committee adjourned after three and a half hours of discussion and debate on two bills.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 30.— (UP)— Non-parisan politics is one of those ideals most people believe in but do little about. Maybe the tide has turned.

The state senate caused some eyebrow lifting when it gave unanimouse approval to a bill providing non-partisan elections of all state officers except governor, lieutenant governor, U. S. senators and congressmen.

A similar proposal has been voted down repeatedly in previous sessions. Senator George Bigger, R., Cavelo may or may not have had a rabbit's foot in his pocket, and the bill still has a rocky road before hoping to be signed by the governor, but students of goo government believe it is a step in the right direction.

The bill would provide for appointment of delegates to state party platform conventions by county central committees in the various legislative districts. Party nominees to the legislature and principal state offices compose the conventions at present.

"The practice of most candidates in seeking nomination by two or more parties is bad for the parties," Biggar said, "because a man nominated by both owes allegiance to all the people who voted for him and hesitates to become a strong party worker for either party."

The headlines that accompanied the recent financial troubles of Jackie Coogan and disposition of the rortune he piled up as a movie star will come back to life March 29 when the senate judiciary committee delves into the situation.

Chief discussion concerns a bill to earmark at least 50 per cent of the earnings of child motion picture stars for trust funds and allows judges to approve contracts for minors only when such clauses are provided.

Ben Lindsay, noted juvenile judge of Los Angeles and formerly of Denver, came to Sacramento to plug for the measure.

The progress of Governor Olson's $557,000,000 budget is well underway and floor debate is expected early next week. The assembly ways and means committee, stacked as it is with administration democrats, made hardly a ripple in the discussion.

In fact, Michael Burns, the Republican from Eureka, got so disgusted with things he commented that "the janitor told me the budget was going to be reported out without a change" and promptly walked out of the room "because I was wasting my time here."

The 17 Democrats on the committee made it impossible for the four Republicans to do anything except promise to save their fireworks for the floor battle. Gerald Kepple, R. Whittier, is going to be one of the chief harpooners, particularly on the relief situation.

After being reported from the ways and means committee and given first and second reading, the budget bill will take several days of debate After its expected passage, it goes to the senate finance committee headed by Robert Kenny, Olson spokesman from Los Angeles, and a probable whiplashing from the conservative senate. After it gets out of committee, an even stiffer battle is anticipated on the senate floor, with probable slashes in many items.

The amended bill then comes back to the assembly where the changes are either approved or rejected. In event of refusal to accept the senate recommendations, the senate takes up the discussion again. Senate refusal would bring a stalemate and necessity of a committee from both houses to try and compromise their differences.

Senate conservatives are taking no chances of Governor Olson's production-for-use plan creeping into the statute books without them knowing it.

Afetr the upper house approved—unanimously—a routine farm bill to authorize cooperatives to engage in production, as well as processing and marketing of farm products, the GOP leaders got to wondering whether that might make it possible for the administration to organize self-help cooperatives, as per Olson's relief program.

So Senator Jerrold Seawell, R., of Roseville promptly gave notice of reconsideration of the measure to give time for t thorough study of all loopholes. In any case, the bill's author, John Phillips, Riverside county Republican, is NOT suspected of trying to pull a fast one.

WHITE SAILS AND IRON HULLS

WITH white sails furled and lean masts swaying, a hundred fishing sloops jostle at anchor daily behind the market-place of Willemstad, capital and chief port of Curacao. The average tourist taking one of the 16-day cruises from New York to the Caribbean, on seeing these sloops will conclude that they fit in perfectly with the delicately tinted houses, red-tiled roofs, canals and quaint bridges which make Curacao one of the most charming of the islands of the Caribbean.

Yet, notwithstanding the lazy-looking sloops, Curacao is one of the busiest ports in the world. The island itself covers but two hundred and ten square miles and has a population of less than one hundred thousand, yet its volume of traffic is such that the U. S. Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce lists Curacao among the greatest ports of the world. To it come daily scores of tankers laden with petroleum from the rich fields of Venezuela, freighters enroute both to the east and west coasts of South America, besides regular passenger and cruise ships.

In one single year there was a total of 12,057 vessels of over twenty million net tonnage entering the port—yet the sailing vessels, most of which lack an auxiliary motor, are just as necessary to the life of the island for they are in constant traffic with the mainland. From there they bring fruits, vegetables and other foodstuffs which can not be obtained in Curacao due to the dryness of the soil.

FREAK STORM REPORTED BY FOREST SERVICE IN TAHOE NATIONAL FOREST

NEVADA CITY, March 30.— One of the most spectacular lightning storms ever to be witnessed by local residents is reported by officials of the Tahoe National Forest at Nevada City, with the statement that fortunately no forest fires weer started as a result According to the report, huge displays of sheet, ball and forked lightning were witnessed, at times huge forked bolts streaked horizontally over the horizon. Hailstones one and one-half inches in diameter were reported by Forest Ranger Frank McCaslin at North Bloomfield Station on the Tahoe.

McCaslin stated that he and his wife had gone to a point above North Bloomfield to witness the unusual electric display when the hailstor mhit them. Hailstones were deposited to a depth of four inches on the ground, the average size being the size of a large marble, and, McCaslin stated, some extra large specimen were an inch and a half in diameter by actual measurement.

On the morning after he noticed manzanita leaves to be beaten off and pine needles scattered all over the ground, and a box of hailstones he had collected and left in his car were still a large size. In places where snow lay on the ground, the had had penetrated five or six inches deepinto it, giving the snow slopes a decided pockmarked appearance.
